

Frequently Asked Questions About Second Story's Open Door Information Sessions

When are Open Door Sessions?

- Our sessions are held virtually on the third Tuesday of every month at either 10:00 am or 1:00 pm. This year Second Story is planning on hosting three in-person sessions at Second Story for Teens in Crisis on Gallows Road. Those sessions will be in April, June, and October. There will be two time slots available: 11:00 am and 1:00 pm. Our in-person sessions will replace the virtual sessions during those months.

Is this a fundraising event?

- NO! Open Door Information Sessions are not fundraising events, rather they are opportunities for us to tell you more about our programs. If you choose to attend an in-person session, you can expect to get a glimpse into our Second Story for Teens in Crisis program.

What should I expect?

- Attendees can expect to hear from leadership and staff, learn about issues faced by youth experiencing homelessness and other crises, right here in Fairfax County, and see how our programs are helping our community.

Who should attend?

- People interested in supporting youth experiencing homelessness or another crisis.
- People interested in volunteering at Second Story. Please note that this session is NOT a volunteer orientation, and we will not be going in depth into the volunteer process. However, this is an important first step, and we encourage anyone interested in volunteering to attend.
- Supporters who have not yet attended a session.
- Supporters who want to know how to spread the word about our mission.

Will there be time for questions?

- Unfortunately, there will not be time for questions during the session, but we will follow up after the meeting and can answer questions then.

What is a Second Story Ambassador?

- Ambassadors are people who have attended an Open-Door Information Session and want to help further the mission and vital work of Second Story. Ambassadors are an integral part of the Second Story community. Learn more here.
